DESPERATE LINDSAY'S LETTERS FROM REHAB

Lohan's pleading with pals to GIVE HER ANOTHER CHANCE

A MISERABLE Lindsay Lohan is reaching out from rehab! Sources say the troubled actress has written desperate letters to friends and ex-lovers, but pals predict she'll be singing the same old song when she's released from the Betty Ford Center.

"Lindsay's working through a lot of stuff, and she had an overwhelming urge to write to these people and explain herself," said a pal. "But she always does this when she's in trouble. It's like she's trying to find closure."

The former "Freaky Friday" star, who will turn 27 in rehab on July 2, labored over a love letter to her lesbian ex, DJ Samantha Ronson, said the source.

"Lindsay took ages writing it," said the pal. "While Sam has made it clear she's not interested in seeing her, LiLo will never give up trying to win her back."

In another bizarre move, Lindsay wrote to her ex Max George of the British boy band The Wanted.

"Max totally used her, and then made out that she'd fantasized their romance, when in reality she'd even met his mom!" said the source.

"But writing Max was actually good for Lindsay. She's setting new boundaries, and it's no longer OK for a guy to treat her badly."

Lindsay even wrote to her nemesis, Paris Hilton, said the source.

"SHE AND PARIS HAVE NOTHING in common anymore, and Paris doesn't want anything to do with Lindsay," said the pal. "But LiLo wants to keep her options open."

As for the letters' contents, "we've all heard it before – another comeback – and this time 'I really mean it,'" said the source.

"But what will really happen when Lindsay's back on the scene remains to be seen."

"One thing's for sure, she's going to keep her partying private. Lindsay does NOT want to end up in court again!"

MEGABUCKS Janet Jackson has cut ties with her freeloading brothers, sources say.

In the past, 47-year-old Janet's big brother Michael reportedly kept the extended Jackson clan afloat.

But since the King of Pop's untimely death, his reportedly cash-strapped brothers have sought help from Janet – who it was recently revealed has grossed a billion dollars from concert tours, acting gigs, album sales and corporate sponsorships.

"Janet has been very generous whenever one of her family came to her for a handout," a source told The ENQUIRER.

"BUT IT SEEMED LIKE THE MONEY she gave them was never enough, and it was only a matter of time before Janet felt like she was being taken advantage of. Eventually, Janet had to change her phone number so that her mom, Katherine, was the only family member with direct access to her. But now Janet's brothers try to get to her through their mom!"

The "What Have You Done For Me Lately" singer revealed in February that she had secretly married Middle East business tycoon Wissam

Al Mana, who's nine years her junior.

"He wants Janet to cut off her family and he supports her decision one hundred percent," says the insider. Of Janet's siblings, her five brothers – Jackie, 62, Tito, 59, Jermaine, 58, Marlon, 56, and Randy, 51 – are the most demanding, a source says.

"They've asked Janet to help them with everything from late child-support payments to home foreclosures and tax liens," the source said. "But now she's drawn a line and let them know enough is enough."

Meanwhile, 83-year-old clan matriarch

Katherine stands to hit the jackpot if she wins a $40 billion wrongful death suit against concert promoter AEG Live. She claims the company failed to properly investigate and supervise the doctor hired to care for Michael in connection with the singer's ill-fated "This Is It" comeback tour.

"If Katherine collects just a small portion of that claim against AEG, there's no doubt her sons will be lined up at her doorstep with their hands out," the source says. "But the good news is a windfall for Katherine will take some of the pressure off of Janet!"

'Sex & City' hunk HUNTING FOR RICH COUGAR

WITH his career cooling off, "Sex and the City" heartthrob Jason Lewis is searching for a special woman – preferably one with a really fat bank account.

The 41-year-old actor once turned female heads playing Jerry "Smith" Jerrod, the young lover of Kim Cattrall's character Samantha Jones. Now he hopes to reel in a wealthy cougar in real life – and he has his eye on 51-year-old songbird Sheryl Crow, says an insider.

"Jason's career path hasn't taken him down the acting road he had once hoped," said a close source.

"He's getting too old to play boytoy roles and has been reduced to cowboy and hunk roles. He had big hopes for his 2011 movie 'Textuality,' in which he was the leading man, but sadly Jason recently appeared as the charming boyfriend in Sheryl Crow's new "Easy" music video and fell under her spell, say insiders.

Now pals expect the former fashion model to go after the "If It Makes You Happy" singer, saying she is the ultimate catch, both rich and hot.

Sheryl briefly dated businessman Steve Bing after her three-year relationship with disgraced cyclist Lance Armstrong ended in 2006. But the mom of two adopted sons,

Although the actor is still reeling from his recent breakup with Daniel Craig's ex Satsuki Mitchell, he's more than willing to "give it a shot with Sheryl," said the source. "They had a kissing scene in her music video and you could tell there was passion in their kiss."

And in a candid interview, Jason positively glowed about doing the video with the blonde beauty.

"AIN'T NOTHING WRONG WITH kissing pretty girls and being paid for it," he said. "Sheryl's incredibly decent and personable and humble and fun to be with."

Jason is ready to settle down, confided the source. "He hasn't given up on his career, but I think the appeal of a special someone far outweighs anything Hollywood could offer him. Sheryl could be just the right person."

Jean Stapleton DEATHBED SECRET

SHOCKING TRUTH about
‘All in the Family’ icon

JEAN STAPLETON went to her grave with a stunning secret.

The Emmy-winning actress, who died peacefully in her sleep on May 31 at age 90, never cared for Edith Bunker, the character that endeared her to millions of fans around the world.

From 1971 to 1979, Jean starred as the screechy-voiced “dingbat” housewife of Carroll O’Connor’s loud-mouth bigot Archie Bunker on “All in the Family.” Although the show has been lauded as groundbreaking for its willingness to explore formerly taboo subjects such as racism, abortion, homosexuality and the Vietnam War, Jean spent years trying to distance herself from her famous alter ego, says a source.

“HONESTLY, SHE FELT the role was demeaning to women at a time when women’s rights and the ERA (Equal Rights Amendment) were happening,” a source told The ENQUIRER. “There were times on ‘All in the Family’ when she would put Archie in his place, but Jean felt Edith was too much of a pushover.”

Jean with “All in the Family” co-stars Carroll O’Connor and Rob Reiner at the 1978 Emmy Awards, and at right with Whoopi Goldberg on “Bagdad Cafe”

“Eventually, it wore on her, and she became sick and tired of Edith. In later years, she didn’t even like talking about the character.”

Jean ultimately turned her back on network television. But she continued to have a successful acting career, starring next to Whoopi Goldberg in the ‘90s TV series “Bagdad Cafe,” as well as in several Broadway and off-Broadway productions. She also toured in a one-woman show as Eleanor Roosevelt after playing President Franklin Delano Roosevelt’s wife in “Eleanor: First Lady of the World” on TV in 1982.

“Jean had not worked in the last 10 years,” her longtime agent David Shaul told The ENQUIRER. “She was retired, and she really was not able to work because of health issues.”

Her death did not come as a surprise to her family.

Stapleton is survived by two children, TV producer Pamela Putsch and film and TV director John Putsch. Her husband William Putsch, whom she wed in 1957, died in 1983.

“She had a good long life,” Shaul added. “She was one of the lucky ones. She passed away very peacefully.”

BELOVED TV legend Mary Tyler Moore has been holed up in her home after suffering two life-threatening medical crises, sources say.

Now friends fear the 76-year-old Hollywood icon is facing her final days.

“At this point, no one knows exactly what’s going on with Mary,” a close source told The ENQUIRER.

“It’s not like her to shut herself away and not speak to anyone or see friends. We’re all terribly concerned about her.”

Just months ago, Mary rushed to the side of her close friend and co-star Valerie Harper, 73, who revealed that she’d been diagnosed with terminal brain cancer.

More recently, Mary faced her own mortality when she broke a hip and fractured a shoulder in a nasty fall at her home in Greenwich, Conn., said the source.

She was hospitalized and then developed pneumonia, which left her struggling to breathe, added the source.

The gutsy star — who’s struggled with diabetes and related health issues for more than 40 years — spent about 10 days in the hospital battling the pneumonia before demanding to be sent home. “The simple fact is that Mary hates hospitals and couldn’t wait to get out of there,” said the source.

“BUT SINCE SHE’S GONE HOME, Mary has refused to see friends or even speak to them. Now everyone’s afraid she’s taken a turn for the worse.”

The fall was the second in the past year for the once-perky star, who won Emmys as Laura Petrie on “The Dick Van Dyke Show” and Mary Richards on the “Mary Tyler Moore” show.

Mary crashed down four stairs at her Connecticut home last year, shattering her collarbone and several ribs.

While she eventually recovered, it was just another incident in a litany of health woes that have been plaguing her in recent years, including loss of vision, and heart and kidney problems, sources say.

She underwent risky surgery in May 2011 to remove a benign brain tumor that had become wrapped around her optic nerve. Two days later, doctors rushed her back into surgery to control bleeding in her brain.

And in early November 2011, she was hospitalized with a grave diabetic condition where potentially fatal acids build up in the blood and urine. She also suffers from another diabetic complication that leads to numbness and pain in the hands and feet, sources say.

Despite all her own problems, the courageous actress made time to comfort her pal Valerie, the former "Rhoda" star who made headlines when she announced her cancer diagnosis in March.

"Mary became a daily font of strength for Val with her uplifting and encouraging words," said a friend.

Another pal told The ENQUIRER:

"Mary told Val that even in the darkest days you have to find the will to move on.

"Now everyone is praying she will."

Madison Georgia happily gave up her savings

It takes a long time for a 6-year-old to save up $177 – but when little Madison Georgia heard there were horses that needed her help, she gladly donated every penny from her piggy bank.

Bighearted Madison, who lives in Binghamton, N.Y., gave up all the money she'd earned from the tooth fairy and her birthdays – her life savings – after her mom Rachelle told her about a farm in North Dakota where 99 horses were found dead and 100 more were sick and starving.

"Madison loves animals," said 29-year-old Rachelle, who heard about the animals' plight on Facebook. "When I told her about the horses, she said, 'Momma, someone needs to fix this.

This is not OK.' And she asked me to send all her money to help.

"She said, 'We've got to do something, not just talk about it.'"

Madison's money went to the Triple-H Miniature Horse Rescue, which took in many of the equines after they were seized from the Bismarck-area properties of Bill Kiefer, a retired investment broker.

Alison Smith, founder of the nonprofit, says the 25 horses she took in right away were in "shocking condition."

"Bones sticking through their hides, heads drooping, evidence of ringworm and other fungal infections," Smith rattled off. "Many had bite marks, possibly from fighting over scarce food at their old home.

"It's an outrage. These horses were out in snow and ice exposed to zero-degree winter weather here in North Dakota. They had little to eat or drink – it's one of the worst cases I've come across."

Incredibly, due to current state law, Kiefer has only been charged with nine misdemeanors and faces a year in jail plus a $2,000 fine.

Morton County, N.D., Assistant State's Attorney Jackson Lofgren says that the state legislature is now considering changing the law to increase the penalties for people who commit such horrific acts of animal neglect and abuse.

"THERE WAS A LOT OF OUTRAGE in the community when news broke about the condition of these horses," said Lofgren. "Fortunately, now almost all of the survivors have been fostered out and are being well cared for."

Meanwhile, Smith was touched by Madison's generous donation, saying: "It's inspiring and uplifting that little Madison, so far away in New York, has such a wonderful spirit and wanted to give her all to help these horses in faraway North Dakota."

Madison's grandpa Randy Dean Frost wasn't surprised by the tyke's act of kindness since he says she's always been "a saver."

"She wanted to buy an elephant and a dolphin with her savings," he added. "But when she heard about these horses, she decided they needed the money more than she did – and she donated it to Triple-H.

"I'm proud of my little granddaughter. She has a heart as big as New York."

KATIE FLAUNTS FLING WITH NEW LOVER

KATIE HOLMES has caught fire with her hunky new co-star, and sources say her ex Tom Cruise is furious!

The hot-to-trot single mom didn't hold back while filming sexually charged scenes with her "Mania Days" leading man Luke Kirby in New York recently.

And insiders say their red-hot chemistry – both on-screen and off – has sent a loud-and-clear message to Tom that Katie's finally moved on.

"Katie put real passion into those kisses – you wouldn't have known they were scripted," said an eyewitness.

"She looked like she was in the throes of ecstasy."

A source close to her told The ENQUIRER: "Katie is using 'Mania Days' to show the world she's rediscovered her sexuality."

"She loved every minute of it, and it's as if she was shoving it in Tom's face!"

Katie wore only a skimpy blue bra top in one steamy clinch and acted obviously aroused while Luke nuzzled her chest.

In other scenes, Katie – clad in a flimsy white top – passionately locked lips with Luke, and then climbed on top of him.

Sources say the explicit poses sent Tom into a tizzy!

"He's fit to be tied," said an insider close to Cruise, 50. "This stuff is almost X-rated. He's also angry that Katie never showed that same kind of passion or public displays of affection with him."

After analyzing the photos at The ENQUIRER's request, body language expert Dr. Lillian Glass said: "Katie is obviously very receptive to Luke.

"The fact that her knee is up and between his means that she's engulfing him. This is a very brazen display."

Another source revealed: "Word quickly got back to Katie that Tom was upset over the photos of the sexy scenes, but she doesn't care anymore. She's showing him that he can no longer control her life. They share a child – that's all."

In the film, Katie and Luke play a manic-depressive couple who meet at a psychiatric hospital and begin a romance. But as The ENQUIRER has reported, they seem thrilled to be together even after the cameras stop rolling.

On May 21, Katie and Luke, who are both 34, were spotted strolling together in New York's Greenwich Village and later enjoyed lunch at a trendy Middle Eastern restaurant.

They also eat lunch together in Katie's private trailer on the set, and have holed up in her Big Apple apartment rehearsing lines, said a source.

Katie's also changed her usual routines since hooking up with the Canadian heartthrob, sources say.

In the past, the "Batman Begins" beauty didn't seem to mind being photographed while shopping or walking with her daughter Suri, 7.

But she no longer enters her apartment building through the main entrance, and when photographers spotted her "almost holding hands" off the set with Luke, she reportedly hailed a cab and left him standing in the street.

But there appears to be little doubt a real romance is brewing.

The couple are "giggling all the time," added a source. "Katie's very flirty, and Luke seems to be very into her."

"She's tired of being perceived as a single mom who will never find love again, and her relationship with Luke is her ticket to a new life. He's more of a regular guy than Tom and not trying to control her life like he did."

AS THE ENQUIRER ALSO REPORTED IN OUR March 18 issue, sources say Katie was in therapy to deal with the emotional aftermath of her marriage to Tom and even told a pal: "Tom ruined me emotionally."

But now she appears to be getting even by taking on a role that showcases her womanhood with a hot young hunk! And as The ENQUIRER recently reported, Luke has a checkered past.

He stripped down while starring in HBO's racy 2007 drama "Tell Me You Love Me," and has a rabid following among gay men.

Sources say he also developed a crush on Katie's former "Dawson's Creek" co-star Michelle Williams after they filmed several sex scenes for the 2011 drama "Take This Waltz."

Meanwhile, a source close to Cruise said: "There's still a lot Tom doesn't know about Luke, and he's not comfortable about that."

"Most of all, Tom doesn't like this relationship being thrown in his face, especially since he apparently hasn't found anyone else for himself."

A single mom to daughter Suri, Katie no longer wants to be perceived as a woman who will never love again

He's angry that Katie never showed that same kind of passion with him

The comedian is promoting his new film, "The Hangover Part III"

ZACH GALIFIANAKIS hoped to get a big laugh when he "came out" on national TV, but the funnyman didn't realize his bride would bear the brunt of his joke!

During an appearance on HBO's "Real Time with Bill Maher" to promote his new flick "The Hangover Part III," he looked straight into the camera and deadpanned: "I'm gay. I just wanted to let people know." He then quipped that he was trying to drum up publicity for the film.

But apparently, a lot of viewers didn't get the joke! By the following morning, Zach found himself in hot water with his wife, Quinn, a friend tells The ENQUIRER.

"QUINN ACTUALLY HAD PEOPLE she knows come up to her and say they're sorry, and asked if she knew Zach was gay before they got married," the friend said. "Quinn told them it was just a joke, but Zach did it with such a straight face on TV, people thought he was serious."

Zach, 43, married blonde beauty and charity co-founder Quinn Lundberg, 29, last August after three years of dating, but she's still getting accustomed to her husband's offbeat sense of humor.

"Usually, the nonsense that comes out of Zach's mouth when he's doing his comedy bits doesn't affect Quinn one way or another, but this was different," the friend continued. "She didn't like the scrutiny Zach's lame joke put her under, and she let him know it."

"Poor Quinn even had family members calling her and asking what the deal was. She had to defend herself and insist that she didn't marry a gay man!"

"The joke fell really flat – and it backfired on Zach because he ended up in the doghouse."

ADELE's singing has gone to the dogs – literally!

The Grammy- and Oscar-winning singer is not only a hit with human fans but the canine crowd too!

Dogs of all shapes and sizes are howling along to Adele's soulful songs. A hilarious video, featuring a cute black Labrador retriever named Rev who belts out his own version of Adele's "Make You Feel My Love" was posted on YouTube in mid-May. And the dog's rendition amassed more than 3.5 million views by the end of the month.

"His response to the song is pretty adorable," said Rev's owner Wes Reiff. In the video, the pooch rouses from a nap as soon as he hears the song's opening notes, and he begins to howl as Adele sings. While Rev may be an overnight sensation, he's not alone in his admiration for the British vocal powerhouse.

Many dog owners have taken videos of their furry four-legged friends belting out their versions of Adele's smash single "Someone Like You," including notable renditions by a basset hound, a Pembroke Welsh Corgi, a white German shepherd and a French bulldog pup – and they all can be seen on YouTube.

AS THE PROUD OWNER OF A Dachshund named Louie, it's likely new mom Adele is thrilled with her four-footed fan base. But what's behind the dogs' fascination with her?

"There is something very animalistic about the pitch in Adele's voice that the dogs all respond to in the same way," explained animal expert Dr. Patrick Mahaney of the Veterinary Cancer Group in Culver City, Calif.

"The dogs are responding... as if they are in the wild trying to communicate with her. There is no other singer that they react to in this way because Adele's voice and pitch is unlike any other."

LIBERACE took a terrible secret to his grave when he died from AIDS in 1987.

His former lover Scott Thorson claims the flamboyant entertainer was directly responsible for the deaths of AT LEAST three men after knowingly infecting them with HIV, the AIDS virus.

Thorson began a six-year romance with Liberace in 1976 when he was a teen and says the showman routinely engaged in unprotected sex with young men at wild, cocaine-fueled parties at his home – even after he suspected he was ill.

"LIBERACE WAS A SEX ADDICT," Thorson told The ENQUIRER from inside the Washoe County Jail in Reno, Nev., where he was awaiting sentencing on credit card burglary charges.

"He never used a condom nor practiced safe sex. His lovers Cary James, Chris Adler and Bob Fisher all died

In a bombshell interview, Michael Douglas revealed that oral sex triggered his near-deadly bout with throat cancer, and now pals of his wife Catherine Zeta-Jones fear for her health!

The 68-year-old actor, who reportedly sought treatment for sex addiction in 1992, has finally confessed what ENQUIRER readers have known for almost three years – that he tested positive for the human papilloma virus (HPV), which is transmitted sexually and can cause cancer.

"Michael has been extremely active sexually over the years – both before and during his two marriages," confided a Douglas family friend.

When he was diagnosed with cancer in 2010, the Academy Award winner – who has denied being a sex addict – blamed the disease on smoking and drinking. But in a recent interview, the "Basic Instinct" star admitted: "This particular cancer is caused by HPV, which actually comes about from (oral sex)."

because of him - and there could be several others."

Although it wasn't confirmed that Liberace had AIDS until after his death, Thorson is convinced the performer knew he was carrying the killer virus for years.

Thorson co-authored "Behind the Candelabra," the book that the hit HBO movie was based on, which stars Michael Douglas as Liberace and Matt Damon as Thorson. The May 26 premiere drew 2.4 million viewers - but they didn't get to see any information about the AIDS scandal because it wasn't touched upon in the film.

In a bombshell revelation, Thorson says he realized something was wrong after Liberace acted suspiciously during a 1985 visit to AIDS-stricken actor Rock Hudson.

"Liberace asked Rock a lot of questions about having and living with AIDS," Thorson recalled. "Like, what sort of pain was he experiencing? What sort of medicine was he taking? How did he feel?"

THORSON DIDN'T THINK ANYTHING of it at the time, but he later came to believe that Liberace had either already been diagnosed or, at the very least, suspected he was infected by then.

Cary James, who was Liberace's chauffeur and last live-in lover, died of AIDS in March 1995. Cary once claimed that after he and Liberace tested positive for HIV, they "made a pact never to tell another soul about our AIDS."

Christopher Adler, son of Broadway composer Richard Adler, died from AIDS in November 1984 at the age of 29. The third man Thorson claims was infected by Liberace, Bob Fisher, was one of many young men he mentored through the years.

"Liberace's dead today because of his lifestyle, his sexual addiction, and he had this weakness for young men," declared Thorson, 54. "I know because I was one of them. I was very lucky that I didn't contract the AIDS virus."

As The ENQUIRER previously reported, Thorson - who has advanced anal cancer - was arrested in February at a Reno hotel after using credit cards that didn't belong to him.

After giving The ENQUIRER this shocking interview, he was bailed out of jail by Dennis Hof, the owner of Nevada's famous Bunny Ranch brothel. He is expected to be sentenced in July.

On the night he was released, Thorson finally sat down to watch "Behind the Candelabra." He wasn't disappointed, calling Matt Damon's portrayal of him "very fair."

Thorson added: "I'd love to meet Matt and thank him."

the embarrassing interview as his rep claimed the star never actually said that oral sex caused his cancer. But the damage had already been done. Now friends of the couple are frightened for 43-year-old Catherine, Michael's second wife of nearly 13 years.

THE EMOTIONALLY FRAGILE BEAUTY - and mom of their son Dylan, 12, and daughter Carys, 10 - has spent time in mental facilities fighting bipolar II disorder, which causes wide mood swings. But her problems could get much worse if she caught her husband's insidious sexually transmitted disease.

HPV can hide in the human body for years before suddenly and brutally striking, according to Dr. Syed Ahmad, a cancer specialist at the University of Cincinnati. "(Michael) may have contracted the virus at any time through unprotected sex, and it incubated in his body until he discovered the throat cancer caused by HPV," explained Dr. Ahmad, who did not treat the star. "His wife is definitely at increased risk of contracting HPV and needs to be closely monitored since it causes cervical as well as head and neck cancers."

WHITNEY HOUSTON suffered from a secret heart defect that turned her into a ticking time bomb!

A source says the tragic diva — whose death at age 48 was attributed to accidental drowning — battled a heart problem her entire life and knew she was destined to die young.

"Whitney was born premature and was a very small baby," the source revealed.

SHE DIDN'T TALK ABOUT IT a lot, but she knew that she had heart problems and her life was probably going to be cut short.

"So for those who knew her well, Whitney's death was the result of an ongoing health problem. Whenever she fell ill or looked sick, we'd ask one another, 'Is this it?'"

Whitney was found dead in her room at the Beverly Hilton hotel on Feb. 11, 2012. According to the official coroner's report, she accidentally drowned in the bathtub.

A heart incident and cocaine use were listed as contribut-

But she'd often exhibited symptoms related to her heart problems, said the source.

"Some days Whitney mentioned that she was having difficulty breathing," recalled the source. "Other times she said that she was exhausted even if she'd just woken up. And she often sweated a lot, even when the temperature was cool.

"Whitney knew she could drop dead at any time," said the source.

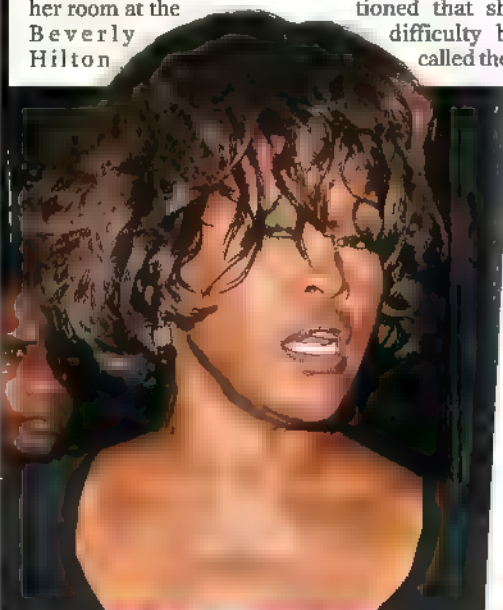

"Needless to say, she abused drugs. But whether or not she used drugs, she believed she'd never see her 50th birthday.

"Still, Whitney knew she was blessed, and she didn't feel at all sorry for herself. She lived her life her way."

SALLY FIELD has set her sights on a college degree! The screen legend says her Hollywood success – with Oscars for the 1979 drama “Norma Rae” and 1984’s “Places in the Heart” – trumped her enrolling in college.

But the twice-divorced actress, who’s coming off a Best Supporting Actress Oscar nod for playing Mary Todd Lincoln in “Lincoln,” is ready to advance her education.

“I would love to get a degree,” 66-year-old Sally told a reporter recently.

“I NEVER WENT TO COLLEGE. I’ve spent my whole life acting and earning enough money to raise my three children. I think my journey would’ve been different had I been to college. Fate came in and grabbed me, and my path was my path – but I have always wanted a liberal arts education.”

Sally first captivated TV audiences at the age of 18, playing a California surfer girl in the 1965-1966 series “Gidget.”

She’s also won Emmys for the 1976 drama “Sybil,” her guest appearance on “ER” in 2001 and her lead role in ABC’s “Brothers & Sisters” in 2007.

Looking back, the “Forrest Gump” star says her parents – actress Margaret Field and drug salesman Richard Field – viewed college as a priority for boys, not girls.

“My brother went to Berkeley (University of California) and became an elemental particle physicist but no one said to me, ‘How about you, Sal?’” she recalled.

“College was not presented to me as a possibility.”

Matthew Perry's

FRIENDS don't let “Friends” get saggy – and Matthew Perry is considering going under the knife after pals ribbed his double chin!

Buddies busted the 43-year-old actor for his jiggly jaw line when he co-hosted “The Ellen DeGeneres Show” recently, and now he's hoping plastic surgery will help him land a new job after NBC yanked his sitcom “Go On,” says an insider.

“Matt was his usual funny, engaging self when he co-hosted Ellen’s show,” a source told The ENQUIRER. “But his friends said his fat neck made him look like ‘Honey Boo Boo’s’ mother Mama June, and teased him about going under the knife.”

“Matt’s always laughed off Hollywood’s obsession with plastic surgery. But with ‘Go On’ canceled, he’s thinking twice about a subtle nip/tuck.”

IT'S THE THIRD POST-“FRIENDS” series to flame out for Perry, and as The ENQUIRER reported, pals are worried that the actor – who’s bounced in and out of rehab – would relapse after his latest setback.

But now he’s considering a makeover to get back on his feet.

“For Matt, getting compared to Mama June was the last straw,” said the source. “Plastic surgery is not on his bucket list, but he’s not opposed to it anymore.”

LONI COMES TO BURT'S RESCUE

BURT REYNOLDS and Loni Anderson are back together again – in court! This time the famous exes are fighting side by side to save Burt from being booted out of the Florida mansion they once shared.

After the couple's fairytale marriage ended in one of Hollywood's most bitter divorces, Loni went on to marry legendary folk musician Bob Flick of The Brothers Four in 2008.

In contrast, Burt has plowed through several girlfriends, including cocktail waitress Pam Seals, whom he had an affair with while married to Loni. In recent years he's suffered through open heart surgery and alcohol and pain pill rehab. He also hit the financial skids, and put his waterfront spread in Hobe Sound on the market for $15 million in 2006, but it dropped to $8.9 million in 2009.

SINCE THEN, THE ASKING PRICE FOR THE luxuriously appointed five-bedroom, 12,500-square-foot home has dropped to $5 million, with no takers in sight.

Meanwhile, the icy relationship between Burt and Loni began to thaw a few years ago when they got together to pitch a TV sitcom starring them both.

"Their personal battles are long over, and Loni has a soft spot for Burt," the source told The ENQUIRER. "She hates that he's facing losing his home while she's found happiness."

STARS' SEX-TRADE CONFESSIONS

'Actors Studio' host James Lipton WORKED AS A PIMP – & he's not the only one!

STUFFY "Inside the Actors Studio" host James Lipton stunned fans by revealing he worked as a pimp in Paris – but he's not the only celebrity to take a walk on the wild side.

In his memoir "Inside Inside," 86-year-old Lipton disclosed that he did "a roaring business" in the sex trade in post-World War II France.

"I was able to live for a year," bragged the bespectacled acting coach.

According to Lipton, a woman he met in France introduced him to the world of prostitution.

"When I ran out of money, I said, 'I have to go home,'" he said.

"She said, 'No, you don't. I'll arrange for you.' So she arranged for me to do it. I had to be OK'd by the underworld, or they would've found me floating in the Seine."

Here's a look at several other celebs who worked as pimps.

ICE-T

Long before he played an NYPD Detective on NBC's "Law & Order: SVU," Ice-T – whose real name is Tracy Marrow – was a gangster, soldier and street pimp!

The future actor was a squad leader at Schofield Barracks near Honolulu when he met a real-life pimp named Mac.

Prostitution was not a heavily prosecuted crime in Hawaii at the time, and Mac taught Marrow the pimp trade.

Ice-T – now 55 and happily married to wife Coco – later produced the documentary "Iceberg Slim: Portrait of a Pimp," about the pimp icon and author who was Ice-T's namesake.

SNOOP LION

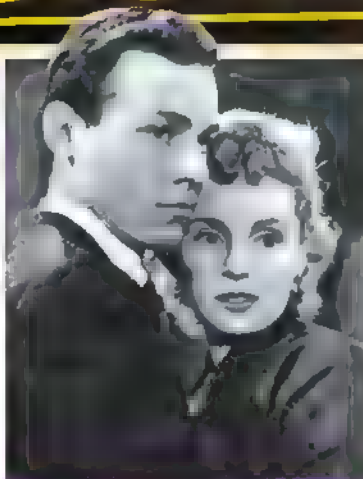

Many hip-hop stars rap about the woes of pimping, but Snoo's got the experience!

The "P.I.M.P./Pimpin' Ain't EZ" singer kept a group of prostitutes at his disposal throughout the early and mid-2000s.

They followed him on tour and he even rented them out to pro athletes!

SNOOP LION

The actor with "Guiding Light" co-star Alice Yourman in 1953

Lipton disclosed he did "a roaring business" in the sex trade in post-World War II France

"If I'm in a city where the Denver Broncos or the Nuggets play, I get a couple of the players to come hang out, pick and choose," he boasted.

RUSSELL BRAND

Katy Perry's ex-husband didn't pimp, but claims he worked as a male prostitute!

"Arthur" star Brand says he once earned a paycheck working as a male escort, and guesstimates that he's bedded approximately 2,000 babes.

The actor's former male escort brags he bedded about 2,000 babes

AYSHAWN
The raucous rapper hustled hookers on Craigslist in her hometown of Oakland, Calif.

ICE-T
The actor/rap artist was a soldier in Hawaii when he pimped prostitutes

MONTANA

The "Love & Hip-Hop: Atlanta" star has spoken candidly about her pimpin' past, but says she's not ashamed since it helped her raise her children.

EDYENSHAWN

The popular white rapper, who had a huge hit with "Gucci Gucci," pimped online in her hometown of Oakland, Calif.

"These girls I met...brought me this new idea, it was safer than selling drugs," she said. "I posted the links for them, took the anonymous pictures, and set up the dates and prices."

But her Craigslist hustle ended when "more experienced" local pimps took over.

I had to be OK'd by the underworld, or they would've found me floating in the Seine!

Tiger and Lindsey on May 21
in Palm Beach, Fla.

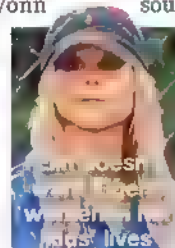

TIGER KICKS OUT LINDSEY!

TIGER WOODS angrily booted girlfriend Lindsey Vonn out of his palatial Florida home after she chastised his young children.

But an insider says that the skirt-chasing golfer is using Lindsey's run-in with the kids as an excuse to get her out of the picture - because he's already tired of her and ready to find someone else!

ing. "It's over, and Lindsey knows it," a source told The ENQUIRER. "Tiger wants out."

TIGER'S EX, ELIN NORDEGREN, who divorced Tiger in 2010 after The ENQUIRER revealed he'd been hooking up with New York party girl Rachel Uchitel, was already furious that Tiger let Lindsey around their kids.

"Elin said, 'The kids don't need to see women come and go in his life,'" said the source. "I know him too well - Tiger will get bored and she will be history."

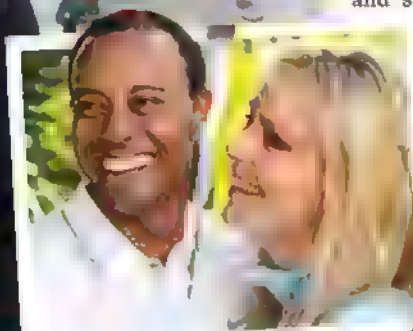

And that's exactly what's happening, says the source.

"Lindsey was never the one for Tiger. She's miserable, but there's nothing she can do about it."

$55 million mansion in tony Jupiter Island, Fla., after his daughter, Sam, 5, and son Charlie, 4, swiped some of Lindsey's clothes and jewelry and pranced around in an innocent game of dress-up. But instead of playing along, a source said champion Olympic skier Lindsey chastised the kids, and "right away, Tiger knew this was trouble."

Tiger, 37, told Lindsey, 28, that they could keep seeing each other, but it was time for her to leave, and a tearful Lindsey began pack-

KRIS ORDERS KOURTNEY TO GET MARRIED

KOURTNEY KARDASHIAN is finally set to marry longtime beau Scott Disick after "momager" Kris Jenner turned in a demanding Cupid and ordered them to "cash in quick," say sources.

The reality TV stars have been an on-again/off-again couple since 2006 and have two children together - son Mason, 2, and 1-year-old Penelope. Now Kris has started pushing them to seal the deal in a bid to keep money pouring into the Kardashian coffers.

"Kris has convinced them they could net a whopping $10 million in deals from their wedding," a family friend told The ENQUIRER.

"They've had a roller-coaster relationship and Kourtney has had to live with all sorts of rumors about Scott's wild partying with other women.

So marriage hadn't been a top priority for them - that was until Kris gave it to them straight. "Kris is worried that the family's popularity may be on the wane and there may not be many megabucks paydays left. She wants to cash out now."

THE 57-YEAR-OLD Matriarch is orchestrating every detail. She wants Kourtney, 34, to help get the relationship back in the spotlight, "and she's told Scott to be as romantic as possible with Kourtney whenever they're in public," divulged an insider. Scott appears to be paying close attention. Over Memorial Day weekend, he celebrated his 30th birthday at a Las Vegas club, and was all over Kourtney, even serenading her. "They want to build up the hype before Kris starts pitching the exclusive engagement pictures and a wedding TV special," said the friend. "They want to tie the knot in Aspen in November."

"Kris thinks they can make a fortune, and the couple is onboard provided the money's there."

The Youth Hormone...

Everyone is talking about it. But can it really reduce body fat, increase lean muscle mass, boost mood, heighten sex drive, give you plenty of energy, get rid of wrinkles and tighten saggy skin?

Barbara just had another birthday.

She watches her diet, exercises when she can, and is in pretty good shape. In fact, she could be the poster child for the "Fountain of Youth" headline we see on the covers of fashion mags around the globe. What's her secret? It's not just the occasional Botox, peel or filler, or even her assortment of skin creams that could rival the anti-aging section of your local Sephora. Barbara, who was always "cutting edge," has become a believer in what is fast becoming the most popular (if not the most expensive) anti-aging treatment in the USA... Growth Hormone Therapy.

—By Tiffany Strobel

it seems everyone is talking about human growth hormone lately. No less than the famed Dr. Oz began a recent show by asking his audience, "How many of you want to start feeling 20 years younger right now?" Allure magazine, in its "Anti-aging Special" issue, highlighted growth hormone as its 2013 call-out. Shape magazine began a recent growth hormone article with the provocative lead in: "When you see a 50-year-old actress who can pass for 35, you can bet that good genes aren't the only things responsible for her youthful glow." Fox News, The Today Show, CNN, ABC, and CBS have all contributed to the current frenzy.

VANITY FAIR says: "A 20-year-old produces more than twice as much hGH as [she] will when [she's] 40... hGH, by turning back the body clock, turns back the aging process."

Dr. Oz says:

"A recent study [on SeroVital-hgh] showed patients given a special blend of amino acids saw their hGH levels spike more than 6 times..."

Why all the fuss?

Simple. hGH disciplines... and to many like Barbara, hGH therapy is truly a religious experience... believe hGH can help reduce body fat, increase lean muscle mass, boost mood, heighten sex drive, give them plenty of energy, get rid of wrinkles and tighten saggy skin... making them look and feel decades - not years, but decades - younger. Celebrities, CFOs, Wall Street execs, models, housewives, athletes and even some high-ranking politicians all seem to be drinking from the same pitcher of Kool-Aid. There's no doubt about it; in our current fast-paced, "youth-oriented" culture, hGH therapy is hot.

The controversy

The controversy isn't over whether or not hGH plays an essential role in our health and aging (virtually everyone already agrees on that). Instead, the controversy lies in the best way to maintain our body's supply of human growth hormone. Until recently, most felt the best way was through expensive prescription injections (although costs can run as high as $1500 per month). However, some experts argue against the use of these synthetic injections, because they fear introducing synthetic hGH into the body may upset natural hGH production.

The breakthrough

Because of these concerns, researchers have spent the last thirty years searching for a reliable, clinically proven way to promote pituitary health, thereby increasing human growth hormone levels naturally. So it's no surprise that when an oral compound capable of increasing mean, endogenous, bioactive, serum (blood) growth hormone levels... by 682%... was presented at the prestigious Obesity Society's most recent Scientific Meeting in San Antonio, Texas, and then again at The Academy of Women's Health's 21st Annual Congress in Washington, D.C., it created a serious stir.

The revolution

The formula that was the subject of these research findings is now being sold by SanMedica International™ under the trade name SeroVital™. And when Dr. Oz discussed the product's research on his show by introducing something he called "a new frontier: stimulating your body's production of

Thanks to the release of SeroVital, the hGH revolution is exploding. Now that there's an easy-to-swallow capsule that can raise growth hormone naturally, an awful lot of people have stopped asking if they should be increasing their hGH levels and started asking which hGH-boosting option is right for them.

Is it worth it?

To me, anything that may reduce wrinkles, tighten saggy skin, decrease body fat, increase lean muscle mass, strengthen bones, and boost mood, while giving you plenty of energy and improving sex drive, is a no-brainer. However, make no growth hormones naturally..." and added, "I have been searching for this from the day we started the show.

I've been looking for ways of increasing hGH naturally because I don't like getting the injections," you can imagine the frenzy he created. Before long, SanMedica was having trouble keeping SeroVital in stock. It went from underground sensation to full-blown phenomenon.

mistake about it, the "established" medical community (and of course, they know everything) would say its benefits are largely anecdotal, and based on research that's preliminary. But there's no denying that something that has a chance of making you look and feel decades, not years, but DECADES, younger, is... at the very least... irresistible. Frankly, I'm ready to try it. How about you?

Ultra says: We've sold out three times since the Dr. Oz segment aired.

So what's the catch?

Dr. Amy Heaton, PhD, Director of Scientific Affairs for SanMedica International, says: "There are three. First, as with hGH injections, SeroVital is not a 'magic bullet,' but one part of a healthy lifestyle choice including a sensible diet and exercise regimen.

"Second, for proper absorption, you have to take SeroVital-hgh on an empty stomach. That means you either have to take it first thing in the morning and then not eat anything for two hours, or take it at night, at least two hours after your last meal... before you go to bed.

"And last but not least, while SeroVital is far less expensive than prescription hGH injections, it's still not cheap... SeroVital will cost you about $100 a month."

Where can I get it?

Having a hard time finding SeroVital-hgh? SeroVital is currently available at select Ultra stores, and over the next few months will be available on a limited basis at prestige retailers across the U.S.

Can't wait? You can order it directly from SanMedica International by calling 1-800-573-7403 or visit their website at www.SeroVital.com. Use the promo code HGH70 at checkout and shipping is free!!

Anna Nicole's $49M baby TOO RICH FOR OWN GOOD!

Source: A new Dannielynn will follow the same destructive path as her mom!

AN incredible wind-fall is about to drop into the lap of Anna Nicole Smith's daughter, but those close to the little girl fear the newfound fortune could ultimately destroy her, says an insider.

Family friends of 6-year-old Dannielynn Birkhead are scared that a huge court judgment in her favor could propel the Guess Kids model down the same destructive path that led to the death of her hard-partying, beauty-queen mom at age 39.

"DANNIELYNN IS ALREADY SPOILED," a source close to the family told The ENQUIRER. "She has closets filled with hundreds of dresses and shoes, and her dad buys her everything she wants. The new pile of money could spell doom."

Dannielynn and her father Larry Birkhead have been in the center of a nasty legal battle over the estate of Anna Nicole's late husband, billionaire J. Howard Marshall II, who died only a year into their marriage.

In late May, a federal judge blasted the estate of Marshall's deceased son, Pierce, for using underhanded legal tactics, and awarded damages to Dannielynn.

The judge has not yet set an amount, but legal sources predict she'll rake in $49 million or more. Phil Boesch, lawyer for Anna Nicole's estate, told The ENQUIRER: "Dannielynn and her father are very happy."

— friends fear

But the close source expressed concern that the tyke will eventually follow in the footsteps of her tragic mother, who died of a drug overdose in 2007.

"It's actually terrifying," said the source. "This new pile of money will catapult Dannielynn from being well-off to super-rich."

"People around her need to remember she may have the same genetic predisposition to alcoholism and drug addiction that killed her mother."

"Once she's older and gets control of the money, she may run wild with it. On the surface, this win looks like a blessing from heaven, but it could someday lead her into the hell of addiction."

by JOHN BLOSSER

jblosser@nationalenquirer.com

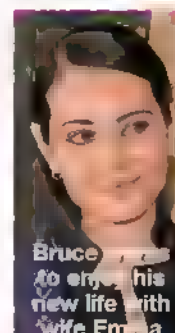

BRUCE WILLIS is so fed up with ex-wife Demi Moore that he's selling his Beverly Hills mansion to get away from her, says a source.

The 58-year-old "Die Hard" star recently listed his sprawling 11-bedroom estate on nearly an acre for a whopping $22 million.

"HE'S FINALLY HAD ENOUGH of Demi's crazy antics," revealed an insider. "And since they live just over three miles apart, he wants to put more distance between them."

Bruce reached the breaking point when Demi failed to show up for their 21-year-old daughter Scout's graduation from Brown University over the Memorial Day weekend.

The action hero attended the ceremony in Rhode Island with his second wife Emma Heming and Scout's sisters Rumer, 24, and Tallulah, 19, who've also been at odds with their mom, according to sources.

Rumer upset that mom left her and Tallulah

"Demi's had a troubled relationship with her girls since she left rehab last year," said the insider. "But it was still a bitter disappointment when she was a no-show."

Meanwhile, Rumer has had the toughest time with her mother.

As The ENQUIRER reported in May, cradle-robbler Demi angered her eldest daughter by beginning a trial marriage with Rumer's ex-boyfriend Harry Morton while waiting to finalize her divorce from Ashton Kutcher.

The 50-year-old film star had allowed Hollywood playboy Morton, 32, to move into her Beverly Hills home — triggering the bitter falling out.

"Rumer was absolutely disgusted," said the insider.

Demi has since moved on from Morton to a new boy toy,

PAULA DEEN's legal troubles are boiling over into her marriage to tugboat captain Michael Groover — and it's starting to look like a recipe for romantic disaster, says a source.

Last year, former employee Lisa Jackson filed a bombshell lawsuit against Paula. She claimed she was subjected to racial and sexual harassment during her five years as general manager of Uncle Bubba's Seafood & Oyster House — a Savannah restaurant Paula co-owns with her brother, Earl "Bubba" Hiers.

IN COURT DOCUMENTS FILED IN Georgia's Chatham County Superior Court, Jackson alleges Paula and Bubba both used the N-word, and that Bubba often referred to Jackson as "my little

"Paddi's helping her clear the negative energy out of her life," said a source. "Demi's trying to cleanse her karma from all the nastiness of the past." And all that has apparently pushed

Bruce to buy a place in Malibu or even farther into the country after his Beverly Hills estate sells. He also has two apartments in New York, a vacation home in the Caribbean and several properties in Idaho.

"He's had it with all the family drama," said the insider. "He's got a new life with Emma and their baby Mabel and wants no part of his ex's baggage."

Although Paula and Bubba both deny the charges – and claim that Jackson is trying to shake them down for money – the negative publicity is wreaking havoc on her home life, says a source.

As it is, rumors have been swirling around Savannah for some time that Paula, 66, and Michael, 57, may be headed for divorce. But despite the trouble the lawsuit has caused in her personal life, stubborn Paula is not willing to negotiate with Jackson, says the source.

"Paula could have settled the matter out of court a long time ago," the source noted.

"But she stands by her belief that this is a frivolous lawsuit and she is confident she will prevail if it goes to trial."

BAD BOY BLAKE'S EX ROPES A REAL COWBOY!

COUNTRY star Blake Shelton's ex-wife has found love with a real-life cowboy!

Sources say it's the first serious romance for Kaynette Williams since "The Voice" coach slapped her with divorce papers in February 2006.

Kaynette, 40, has rebounded into the arms of 34-year-old rodeo champion Cody Joe Scheck, who holds the world record for steer roping.

"A mutual friend introduced Kaynette and Cody two years ago," his mother Patricia Scheck told The ENQUIRER.

"They fell for each other instantly and have barely been apart ever since. They're living together, and I'm hoping they'll get married soon and give me grandkids!"

Kaynette married Blake, 36, in November 2003 and helped launch him to stardom before he allegedly cheated on her with his current wife Miranda Lambert.

WHEN BLAKE FILED FOR DIVORCE, he and country songbird Miranda had already known each other for nearly six months, and Kaynette went into a downward spiral.

"After Blake and I split up, I moved from Tennessee back to Oklahoma," Kaynette told The ENQUIRER in September 2011. "But then Blake and Miranda moved back there to a neighboring town, and it just felt like Oklahoma wasn't big enough for all of us."

So she moved to Great Bend, Kan., where she's been teaching at Park Elementary School. But now she's finally fallen in love again and healing from the open wound of her failed marriage.

"Kaynette doesn't give Blake much thought anymore," an insider told The ENQUIRER. "She's very supportive of Cody's rodeo career, and she's staying put with him in Kansas."

Cody set the steer roping world record last June, besting the previous mark by almost .02 of a second, which is huge in steer roping. He compared the feat to shattering baseball legend Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak, saying: "You think it's never going to be broken."

While Kaynette shares her three-bedroom, two-bath house on 8 1/2 acres with Cody, her disastrous union to the country singer continues to haunt her, according to Scheck.

"Kaynette still finds it painful to talk about her marriage to Blake," Scheck told The ENQUIRER.

"She's a very private woman who keeps a lot of her emotions inside. But she's determined to put all of that behind her and move on."

A source close to Kaynette added: "Blake isn't half the man Cody is. He's a pretend cowboy while Cody is the real thing."

"Kaynette is the happiest she's ever been, and it's all due to Cody."

"Besides that, every time she hears a story about Blake supposedly cheating on Miranda, Kaynette gets a big grin on her face. As far as she's concerned, Blake is Miranda's problem now. A leopard never changes his spots."

BULLDOZER RAMPAGE!

Barry Swegle allegedly caused $300,000 worth of damage in his Port Angeles, Wash., neighborhood

Neighbor

IN a bizarre rampage, a Washington man used his bulldozer to demolish four homes, crush a pickup truck and knock down a utility pole, leaving thousands without power.

A fuming Barry Swegle apparently flew into a rage over a long-running dispute with a neighbor in Port Angeles, authorities say, and wreaked $300,000 worth of havoc.

"One house was actually taken off its foundation and basically demolished," said Clallam County Sheriff's spokesman Jim Borte.

"If anybody had been in that house, I don't think they would have survived. He also struck three other homes and a garage, and ran over a pickup truck. It's completely totaled as well."

Neighbor Keith Haynes, a former law enforcement officer, added: "It was like a war zone."

Swegle, 51, runs a small business that's done work in logging, trucking and land development, and for months he'd been battling with a neighbor over a chain-link fence that he said blocked him from moving his equipment, according to his brother Jeff Swegle.

"THAT FENCE WAS A TICKING TIME bomb," noted Jeff. "I knew Barry was capable of tearing the fence out, but not the homes and the power pole. I didn't think he was that mad."

But the May 10 outburst didn't surprise neighbor Barbara Porter, who said the squabbling had gotten so nasty that she was expecting Swegle to take action.

"I heard him coming and I thought, Oh, no, Barry's going to do something bad," she said.

"I watched out my window and saw him push one mobile home into mine, and then he drove over a pickup truck and smashed it all up. Then he went down to another house and started tearing it up."

Swegle also flattened a $10,000 riding lawn mower and a $5,000 chain-link fence, authorities say.

Swegle — who authorities say has a long rap sheet that includes burglary, stalking and public indecency — has pleaded not guilty to nine charges, including assault with a deadly weapon. He's being held on $1 million bail and faces life in prison without parole. His trial is set for Aug. 12.

"He'll lose everything over this," said his brother. "It's a hard lesson."

KIRSTIE'S HOT FOR ITALIAN HUNK

The former "Cheers" star gushed over her "Italian men friends" on Twitter

'Fat Actress' LOOKING FOR YOUNG STUD IN EUROPE

KIRSTIE ALLEY is looking for love, and a pal says she's planning to spend a few months in Italy to bag herself a hot European stud!

"KIRSTIE WANTS TO REJUVENATE her life with an 'Italian' experience," a source close to the 62-year-old actress told The ENQUIRER.

"She thinks spending time in Italy would lead her to a sexy young man."

The "Cheers" star has had a poor track record with American males. She divorced her high school sweetheart Robert Alley in 1975 after four years, and her 14-year marriage with actor Parker Stevenson ended in 1997. A three-year romance with actor James Wilder collapsed in 2000.

But she gushed over her "Italian men friends" in a message on Twitter after vacationing there in 2010, and in a recent Twitter message Kirstie declared that she'd like to spend half the year in the U.S. and the rest in Italy.

PAL'S SAY THE TALENTED EMMY winner has been looking for love since she turned 62 in January, and with her children — William True, 21, and Lillie, 19 — out of the house, she's ready to spend her golden years with a partner.

"Kirstie was happy being a single mom while she was raising her kids," said the source. "But now she's feeling the pangs of loneliness. After working more than 30 years in Hollywood, it's time for her to enjoy the fruits of her labor with a passionate man."

BOOZY BILLY TURNS BACK ON MUSIC

Why
Piano Man's
KEYBOARD
HAS GONE
QUIET

AFTER decades of dazzling audiences with his timeless tunes, "Piano Man" Billy Joel is considering hanging up his hat for good.

Despite six Grammys and a string of No. 1 hits during his phenomenal career, the 64-year-old has stopped writing the music that made him a legend.

"I haven't put out an album in 20 years," he said in a recent newspaper interview. "Let's face it, I'm an oldies act." Pop music is "a very nice box to be in for a while, but then, it becomes like a coffin."

The "New York State of Mind" singer, who has three failed marriages, at least two stints in rehab and a suicide attempt after the Sept. 11 terror attacks, just knocked the wind out of me, and I don't even know if I've recovered from it," he said.

Billy sank into a deep depression and turned to the bottle. He checked into Connecticut's Silver Hill Hospital in 2002 and the Betty Ford Center in California in 2005, but admits he still drinks.

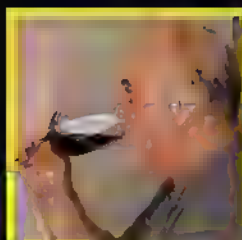

"I have a glass of wine once in a while, and I don't hide it. I used booze as medication. When I really got heavy into it, it was vodka. Vodka is a hard-core alky drink."

BILLY, WHO HAS BEEN IN a relationship with Alexis Roderick for the past three years, says his upcoming tour dates in the UK and Ireland may be his last.

"I want to see if I think I'm still any good, because if I'm not any good, I'd consider retiring," he said. "If I don't think I'm any good, I don't care how much I can make, I don't care how many people want me to, I'm going to stop doing it."

Matt Damon GIVING UP DIETING

AFTER counting calories for years to stay in action hero shape, Matt Damon has vowed his next screen role will be "doughnut friendly," a pal says.

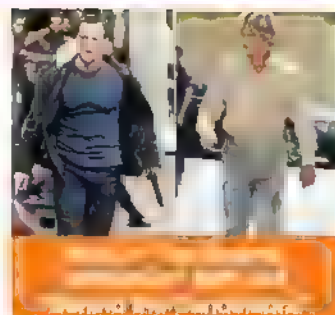

"For the last two years, Matt has literally had to watch every morsel he put in his mouth," a close family friend told The ENQUIRER.

"HE'S ADMITTED TO PALS THAT he's sick to death of dieting. He says he wants to find a project where he doesn't have to count every single calorie.

"And if he can't find a project like that, Matt has said he'll take a break from filming. That's how serious he is."

The 42-year-old Oscar winner - famous for his movie role as amnesiac assassin Jason Bourne - dieted religiously while filming the Liberace biopic "Behind the Candelabra" and the upcoming sci fi thriller "Elysium," said the source.

And he's still working hard to stay in shape while filming "The Monuments Men" with George Clooney. But the father of four daughters has admitted his greatest challenge was packing on 30 pounds in 2008 for "The Informant!" and then shedding the weight for reshoots on "Green Zone."

"To slim down, Matt ran five miles on the beach every day, cut out carbs and ate a lot of tuna, chicken and almonds," said the pal.

But that kind of regimen has gotten old for the actor.

"Matt's ready to step back from the hunk roles," said the source. "He'd much rather eat doughnuts and look like all the other dads picking up

PLUSSIZE "Moneyball" star Jonah Hill has gone back to the only woman who's loved him through thick and thin - ex-girlfriend Jordan Klein. The two were spotted kissing on a North Hollywood street recently, more than a year and a half after they broke up.

"It's no surprise that Jonah is getting back together with Jordan," said a source. "They've known each other for more than a decade, and she never cared whether he had money or looks."

"SHE'S THE ONLY WOMAN WHO'S LOVED him regardless of fame, fortune or fat. Jonah and Jordan first met while they were high school students in Los Angeles. They started dating in 2008, when Jonah was at his chunkiest. Pals thought they were headed for the altar and were shocked when the couple called it quits in late 2011, not long after Jonah shed a whopping 40 pounds for his role in "21 Jump Street."

A few months later, Jonah, 29, hooked up with Ali Hoffman, daughter of "Tootsie" star Dustin Hoffman. As The ENQUIRER reported, Jonah and Ali had known each other for several years, but Ali's interest in the "Superbad" star turned romantic after his stunning transformation from fat to fit.

Ali worked out with Jonah and encouraged him to eat well in an effort to keep him on the right track, but the actor struggled to stay slim. And as he packed on the pounds again, his relationship with Ali started to fizzle out. They split in September. But now he's rebounded with his ex-flame.

"Jordan loves him regardless of any faults," added the source. "She's a wonderful woman."

CHEERS! to better memory

★ Here's some good news to toast. Just a small amount of champagne can ward off age-related memory decline. After conducting lab experiments, British researchers say that the bubbly has compounds that sharpen recall functions.

"These exciting results illustrate for the first time that the moderate consumption of champagne has the potential to influence cognitive functioning such as memory," says University of Reading Professor Jeremy Spencer.

"We encourage a responsible approach to alcohol consumption, and our results suggest that a very low intake of one to two glasses (of champagne) a week can be effective."

★ It's better to slim down sooner rather than later. After middle age, excess body fat hardens arteries. British investigators studied hundreds of people and concluded that body fat stiffens arteries in both men and women after they reach the age of 50.

"The effects of having more fat seem to be different depending on your age," says study author Dr. Declan O'Regan of Imperial College London.

"It looks like young people may be able to adapt to excess body fat, but by middle age the cumulative exposure to years of obesity may start to cause permanent damage to the arteries."

PAINKILLERS linked to ED

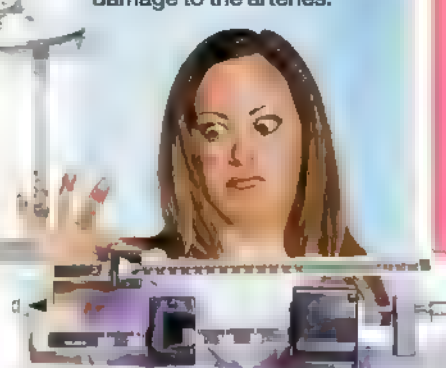

★ Men who take prescription painkillers for long periods of time could suffer an unwelcome side effect – erectile dysfunction.

Researchers examined the health records of about 11,000 men who had chronic back pain. They found that those who took painkillers for at least four months were 50 percent more likely to receive prescriptions for ED than those who didn't use the medication.

"Men who take (narcotic) pain medications for an extended period of time have the highest risk of ED," notes Dr. Richard A. Deyo of the Kaiser Permanente Center at Oregon Health and Science University.

"This doesn't mean that these medications cause ED, but the association is something patients and clinicians should be aware of when deciding if (narcotic painkillers) should be used to treat back pain."

BODY FAT

damage

★ Warning! Car exhaust fumes can clog your arteries.
Scientists exposed mice to vehicle emissions for two weeks and discovered that the fumes changed "good" HDL cholesterol into LDL cholesterol, which has been linked to cardiovascular disease.
"The biggest surprise was finding that after two weeks of exposure to vehicle exhaust, one week of breathing clean filtered air was not enough to reverse the damage," says Professor Michael E. Rosenfeld of the University of Washington.
Researchers suggest limiting exposure to outside air pollutants to avoid long-lasting damage.

★ Active men and women can give their weight-loss program a boost – and experience extra energy – with a cutting-edge slimming product.

Xenadrine has proven effective when used as part of a proper diet and exercise program. In a 12-week study, the average weight loss was nearly 21 lbs., and almost 17 lbs. in an eight-week study. All groups followed a calorie-reduced diet.

The formulation, which contains natural ingredients and caffeine, also provided an effective energy boost for people on the go. And users found it tasty and easy to mix.

FAMOUS QUOTES FROM YOUR FAVORITE PEOPLE

Cryptograms are coded messages. To solve the Cryptogram, each coded letter must be replaced by the answer letter in the box overhead. When you solve the code for a letter, write the answer letter in the box everywhere the coded letter appears. Look for common words and letter patterns to break the code. Words like AND, I, THE and A are found frequently. Common word endings are ING, S and E.

A Life Without 'Belly Fat'

How One Woman Overcomes Tragedy and Creates the Life She's Always Wanted By Tiffany Strobel

Mindy DeForest's wake-up call about her weight problem was heartbreaking and profound: her sister died of colon cancer. "My sister was overweight, and I knew that being overweight myself put me more at risk for all sorts of health issues," she says. "I knew something had to change."

At 208 pounds, Mindy was the heaviest she'd ever been. Even having children hadn't caused her to gain so much weight, but the stress of caring for and eventually losing her sister, as well as being in an unhappy marriage, had caused her weight to balloon. "I'm a total stress eater," she says. "I kept turning to food for emotional reasons, and I was really putting on weight."

Like most people, Mindy had tried dieting in the past. Over the course of ten years she tried Weight Watchers, Body for Life, Ephedra... pretty much everything. But unfortunately, nothing was working for her.

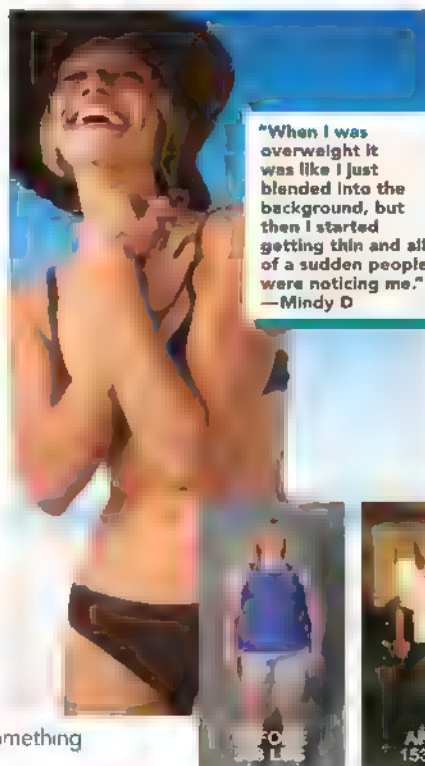

Mindy decided to try losing weight one more time, so she began working with a personal trainer. It didn't take long before her trainer realized that a big part of her weight-gain issues revolved around stress eating, so he recommended she try a product called Relacore®.

"He told me it was a 'belly fat' pill that could help me feel less stressed, give me energy, and improve my mood," Mindy says. She admits she was pessimistic after having tried so many products that hadn't worked in the past, but says, "My trainer really believed in it, so I agreed to give it a try."

It didn't take long before Mindy was convinced of Relacore's effectiveness. "I really noticed a difference in my mood. I was in the process of getting divorced and was worried I'd suffer from depression, but Relacore made a huge difference for me. I never felt down. I stopped my 'nervous' eating. And I could really tell from my mood when I missed a day, so I knew it was doing something for me."

Before long, the inches started dropping off, and Mindy's entire life began to change. "My self-esteem went through the roof. I started getting job offers, and I felt like for the first time in years, people were paying attention to me. When I was overweight it was like I just blended into the background, but then I started getting thin and all of a sudden people were noticing me." But then Mindy hit the dreaded "weight-loss plateau" and almost gave up on ever reaching her goal..

until her trainer recommended a second product: Zantrex®-3 High Energy Fat Burner. "He told me it could help me get past my plateau and start losing again," Mindy says, "and I'd had so much success with Relacore that I didn't hesitate to try it."

Mindy added Zantrex to her Relacore/diet and exercise regimen, and it gave her the extra boost she needed to blow through her plateau and start dropping even more weight.

"With help from Relacore and Zantrex, I've lost 55 pounds, and I'm still going. I haven't been this thin since my twenties. I just bought a new skirt, and when I was trying it on it felt so amazing to keep telling the store clerk to bring me a smaller size. I ended up buying a size 2. It was awesome. I couldn't believe it."

But for Mindy, the greatest accomplishment isn't being able to fit into a size 2. "It's knowing that I really had the power to change my life. When I was overweight, I was miserable. But now everyone around me can see the difference losing weight has made not just in my physical appearance, but in everything. I have energy, I'm positive, I'm outgoing. My whole outlook on life has changed. I'm just so happy."

Heard about "Combo-Pilling"?

The highly controversial practice of Combo-Pilling is truly an underground phenomenon. Odds are, if you know someone who's losing lots of weight, and losing it fast, you probably know someone who's Combo-Pilling.. like Mindy D. Why? Because it allows people to attack multiple facets of weight loss - like dropping fat, overcoming stress eating, and having enough energy to work out... all at the same time. According to the Internet, the most popular Combo-Pilling duo is Zantrex and Relacore. You can find them both at Wal-Mart, Walgreens, Rite-Aid, CVS, and GNC, or order them separately from their respective manufacturers, Zantrex-3 at Zantrex3.com (1-800-296-9461) Relacore at Relacore.com (1-800-414-2289) or at TryComboPilling.com. What's hot this week

Franklin & Bash (Season Premiere)

Wednesday, June 19, 9 p.m. ET, TNT

Tonight, Heather Locklear takes charge of our favorite showboating and fun-loving lawyers as legal heavyweight Rachel King. She literally strips Jared Franklin (Breckin Meyer) and Peter Bash (Mark-Paul Gosselaar) of their dignity during a public nudity debate on "Piers Morgan Tonight." This impresses the firm's eccentric founder Stanton Infeld (Malcolm McDowell) so much, he hires King as a full partner, and Franklin and Bash's new boss! And this tough corporate ice-queen is intent on reigning in the boys' legal antics. Tonight, the guys defend one of King's clients, a world-famous magician (guest star Adam Goldberg) accused of making a lady's diamond bracelet vanish without giving it back in this surprising season-opener.

Hot in Cleveland (Live Season Premiere)

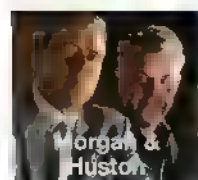

Wednesday, June 19, 10 p.m. ET, TV Land

When a cast of tried and true TV sitcom veterans go live with their season premiere, anything can happen. The live episode picks up where the winter season finale left off - with Joy (Jane Leeves) discovering that Elka (Betty White) and Mamie (Georgia Engel) are running an illegal prescription drug service for Cleveland's seniors. But the ladies are cutting into the business of some very angry drug dealers and mobsters. So Melanie, Victoria (Valerie Bertinelli, Wendie Malick) and Joy step in to keep Elka and Mamie from getting rubbed out. From going off-script to special guest stars and other surprises, tonight's live "Hot in Cleveland" is certain to be spontaneous and hilarious fun.

Sullivan & Son

Thursday, June 20, 10 p.m. ET, TBS

If you haven't checked out this ethnically diverse and outrageously hilarious "Cheers" for the 21st century, you're missing out on some serious belly laughs. Tonight, the gang at the bar have no dates again on a Saturday night. So they make a pact to be more accepting of others and not be such picky daters by each asking out the first person of the opposite sex that walks into the bar. Steve (Steve Byrne) gets a smoking hot blonde who markets cigarettes to children in third-world countries. Melanie (Valerie Azlynn) dates a notorious nickname. And Owen (Owen Benjamin) ends up dating his own aunt! Roy Wood Jr. also stars.

Magic City

Friday, June 21, 9 p.m. ET, Starz

This steamy blast from the past crime story set in late '50s Miami, Fla., just keeps getting hotter. Tonight, Ike Evans (Jeffrey Dean Morgan) risks everything to rid his Miramar Playa Hotel of Ben "The Butcher" Diamond (Danny Huston) and the Mob. Ben is in Chicago trying to pressure Mob boss Sy Berman (guest star James Caan) to let him kill Ike. Meanwhile, Ike's son Stevie (Steven Strait) and Ben Diamond's wife Lily (Jessica Marias) go out on a date, where Stevie ends up shooting a man. And tensions between Ike's beautiful wife Vera (Olga Kurylenko) and his sister-in-law Meg (Kelly Lynch), who wants Ike for herself, heat up as "Magic City" grows more dangerous by the minute.

In a last-ditch bid to shore up sagging ratings, "American Idol" is trying to bring back some of the show's former contestants as judges to replace Randy Jackson, Mariah Carey and Nicki Minaj. Keith Urban's fate is still up in the air.

But many of the fan favorites are refusing to return to the show that launched them on the path to fame - sending the desperate "Idol" bosses into a tailspin.

"KELLY CLARKSON SAYS SHE'S just too busy," revealed an industry insider. "Carrie Underwood also said she's unavailable. Although Adam Lambert is considering returning, he doesn't want to put his singing career on hold."

The good news is that fan favorite Jennifer Hudson IS reportedly set to return, but other potential new judges for the FOX show are already locking horns.

"The network has reached out to Clay Aiken, but a lot of the other 'Idol' alums who've been contacted don't want to work with him," revealed the source. "They think he's just too difficult." Fantasia Barrino has also been approached, but producers are worried she's too much like Jennifer and they would clash.

Fearing their top choices won't sign, producers have already put out feelers to other former contestants, including Kimberley Locke, Lauren Alaina and Blake Lewis.

"All of them are being discussed as possibilities for the judging panel," said the source. "So are Bucky Covington, Bo Bice and Josh Gracin, as well as Season 11 runner-up Jessica Sanchez."

"The execs really wanted to get David Archuleta, the runner-up to David Cook in Season 11, but he's put his music career on hold, embarking on a two-year Mormon mission."

This season's "Idol" ratings are among the worst ever, noted the source. "But executives are convinced the former 'Idols' can re-energize their multimillion-dollar franchise."

Country music legend George Jones was a people pleaser who wanted to entertain his fans one last time (Work Killed George Jones, May 13). Others

You must fill in every empty square in the Sudoku grid. There's no right way of going about this, but there is only ever one solution. The big grid is split into nine mini-grids. There are nine rows running left to right and nine columns running down. In every row, you must have each of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. These can be in any order. The same applies to columns and mini-grids: place every number 1 through 9 in each column and in each mini-grid.

RYAN GOSLING and Eva Mendes' plans to get hitched hit a snag after Ryan became Eva's boss – and now the Hollywood lovebirds are wishing they'd never agreed to work together!

Hunky Ryan, 32, is directing his 39-year-old Latina squeeze Eva in his directorial debut, "How To Catch a Monster," spending the spring filming on location in Detroit. He's gone out of his way not to give his gorgeous girlfriend any special treatment on the set, but sources say he's gone overboard.

"RYAN'S BEEN HARDER ON EVA than any of the other actors in the film," said a friend. "He's ordered multiple takes of her scenes. Eva is going along with it, but she can't help asking herself, 'Is he just doing this to show he's in charge?'"

"I think they both realize now it would have been better for Ryan to go it alone on this film, and for Eva to just visit him on the set."

Ryan and Eva have been together since they met while filming "The Place Beyond the Pines" nearly two years ago, and had planned to marry in the fall, says the friend. But those plans may be on hold because of recent tensions between them.

Making matters worse, Ryan's still convinced Eva has a crush on "Curb Your Enthusiasm" star Larry David! As we recently reported, Ryan hit the roof after Eva accidentally sent the chrome-domed comic a gushing text – that was meant for someone else.

"Ryan had the best of intentions working with Eva," the friend added, "but it's made his directing debut much harder than it should have been."

SOLUTION TO COLORCROSS #22, SEE PAGE 56

IF not for the kindness of two special strangers, Tristen Stroupe would likely not be alive today.

But thanks to Louis Armentaro and his wife Donna, who raised thousands of dollars by recycling tabs from aluminum cans, Tristen received the specialized treatment she needed to beat a rare cancer.

"Doctors gave Tristen about a five percent chance of survival," her mother Tommi Bowers told The ENQUIRER. "At one point, I went out and bought a casket. Miraculously, her body, through the Lord, started healing and I am blessed today with a beautiful 18-year-old daughter."

BUT THINGS LOOKED BLEAK when Tristen was just 13 months old and diagnosed with Stage 4 neuroblastoma, a very rare form of cancer.

Even worse, the ailing child lived in Kalispell, Mont., and the nearest treatment center was at the Salt Lake City Primary Children's Medical Center in Utah.

With two other toddlers at home, Tommi couldn't afford to live in Salt Lake City while her precious daughter battled for her life.

But in 1998, when Tristen was 3, two angels – the Armentaros – heard about Tommi's hardship and stepped in to help.

"We care deeply about kids. That's just our nature," said Louis, 88, a retired printer and World War II combat veteran who's raised 29 foster kids and two natural children with his wife Donna, 80.

While announcing the annual July 4 parade and rodeo in Livingston, Mont., – which he's done every year since 1949 – Armentaro told the crowd that the Ronald McDonald House in Billings, Mont., was collecting the pop-tabs from aluminum cans and recycling them for cash to help finance Tommi's stays in Utah.

"Well, you would not believe the response we got," Armentaro told The ENQUIRER. "People just went wild collecting those tabs. Kids were picking them up off the ground. I must have had hundreds of them dumped in the back of my pickup truck."

He also helped set up collection boxes in Livingston, and in the end, Tommi was able to stay in Salt Lake City while Tristen received treatment.

"They told me that as long as I brought the tabs in, it would pay for my stay there," Tommi said.

Tristen is now cancer-free – and deeply indebted to the Armentaros, who recently drove 350 miles from their home in Livingston to visit her.

"THEY'RE VERY SPECIAL TO ME," TRISTEN, a bistro worker, told The ENQUIRER.

Today, the bighearted senior citizens continue to collect the tabs to help other sick children and their families.

"We should all help the unfortunate," said Armentaro. "If we all held out a helping hand to others, the world would be a much better place."
